About

Since graduating from the former Swinburne "Film & TV School" now located at Melbourne University, Karl has worked as a Director/ Cinematographer in advertising, Directing and Shooting hundreds of Commercials for the likes of Hewlett Packard, Canon, Coke, Lenovo, The Australian Defence Forces and many international Clients. His work as a Director is often focused on integrating "Magic & Visual trickery" into everyday circumstances as well as bringing about engaging performances. Karl has worked throughout Asia and Australia and understands the importance of cultural awareness. Much of Karl's work involves high profile actors and celebrities and over the years, he has had the opportunity to work with an amazing list of people. Karl's strength is with his filmmaking knowledge, his ability to tell a great story, his experience with highly technical situations, 3D and computer graphic integration and off course cinematography. He enjoys photography of all kinds and regularly posts photos to Flickr and films to vimeo.

Karl enjoys working in a collaborative environment to enable the best possible result for any project. Creativity mixed with effective communications have resulted in many repeat customers. Many commercials have won awards and commendations for effectiveness in marketing, audience reach & creative endeavour.

Karl is currently directing a three part documentary on the "History of Electronics" - an epic look into the world of high tech and how it all began.
